NOTES:

1. As there is very little hard data on the modern Pakistani Army, some of the above is estimated or from educated guesswork.
2. There are two armoured divisions in the Pakistani Army: 1st Armoured (at Multan) and 6th Armoured (at Kharian). Each of these forms the core of a 'Strike Corps' equipped with the best equipment in Pakistani possession. These Strike Corps are expected to perform the Pakistani "riposte" to any Indian attack on Pakistani-held Kashmir by driving deep into Indian territory south of Kashmir. Pakistan hopes to seize and hold Indian territory to use as a bargaining chip in any peace negotiations.
3. MBTs may include Al Khalid, T-80UD, Type-85IIAP; Type-69-105mm; M48A5.
4. The Strike Corps at Multan may enjoy support from Pakistan's two squadrons of AH-1 Cobra attack helicopters. It has been suggested that Pakistan has also dedicated an A-5 Fantan squadron to support this Corps.
